Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC Announces Addition of Attorneys and Practice Groups to the Firm's Services to Clients

COVINGTON, KY – Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC is pleased to announce that Benjamin G. Dusing and Angela M. Hayden are joining the firm's practice in Covington effective immediately. Through his Department of Justice experience, Ben Dusing will create an extensive practice in White Collar criminal matters, Government enforcement defense and corporate compliance practices. Angela Hayden will assist in creating an Employment Law practice group, specializing in defense of employment-related investigations and lawsuits, as well as a practice concentrated in complex commercial litigation.

Benjamin G. Dusing is joining the firm as a Partner in the Litigation Group, practicing in the areas of complex litigation, white collar matters, and government enforcement defense. A former federal prosecutor with extensive trial experience, Ben maintains an active civil litigation practice and draws upon his experience with the Justice Department to practice in the areas of white collar defense, internal investigations, and corporate compliance practice. Prior to joining the firm, he was a Partner at Baker & Hostetler in Cincinnati, and had previously served as an Assistant U.S. Attorney for the Department of Justice. Ben is a graduate of Georgetown University and the University of Kentucky College of Law, from which he graduated Order of the Coif and served as Editor-in-Chief of the law review.

Angela M. Hayden joins the firm as an Associate practicing in civil litigation with an emphasis on employment law and domestic relations. She is a member of a national team representing several manufacturing companies in the defense of toxic tort claims. Angela formerly served as a staff lawyer for the Honorable James Mason, Franklin County Court of Common Pleas, Domestic Relations Division. Additionally, she was a legal extern for the Honorable James S. Gwin, United States District Court of the Northern District of Ohio. She is a graduate of the College of Mount St. Joseph and the University of Akron School of Law.
